

Sachet & Pouch Handling Systems

Modular Belt Conveyor

These are the most useful conveyors for product movement such as pouches, bags, boxes or any kind of packed commodity in a factory. Moving products through inclines, declines and production line curves, the sprocket driven thermoplastic belts ensure positive tracking while providing quiet, smooth, trouble-free performance.

